1. Highlights

- Population movements from conflict-ridden Syria into the northern Iraq came to a halt on 10 April. This was due to the reported closure of the border at Semalka in Syria. However, 84 individuals (21 families) sought asylum during the reporting period, and were admitted to the Bajid Kandela Transit Centre and registered with UNHCR.

- A majority of the new arrivals are mainly from Al-Hassake, Aleppo, Kobani and Damascus areas in Syria. They stated that several hundreds who have fled these areas around three weeks ago are still stranded in Gerbalat, Ali Kamash, Al-Sharak mosques and public schools, some 6km from the Peshkabour crossing points. The new arrivals also add that those stranded are in urgent need for humanitarian assistance.

- On 10 April, UNHCR met with the General Director of the Passport and Nationality Directorate and the Heads of the Residency Departments of in the Erbil, Dohuk and Suleimaniyah governorates to discuss the possibility of harmonizing the various procedures, as well as the need for accurate information on the presence of refugees in the Kurdistan Region. During the meeting, it was agreed that registration procedures for new arrivals, issues related to family reunification and file transfers, need to be aligned as soon as possible.

- Following the 10 April meeting, the Residency Department in Suleimaniyah has resumed the issuance of residency cards to Syrian refugees. While residency cards for the refugee population in camps will be issued free of charge, the residency department has decided to charge an amount of 8000 IQD (approximately USD 6.6) per card for those outside camps i.e. at cost price. The same amount will be charged for the renewal of the cards. The residency department in Erbil is expected to resume the issuance of the residency cards as soon as possible. UNHCR will support the expansion of the facilities at the PARC office in support of this project.

- Humanitarian actors resumed some activities in the Gawilan camp on 8 April. UN agencies and I/NGOs temporarily suspended assistance in the camp after a violent confrontation in Gawilan Camp between the Asayeesh, DMC officials and Zeravani during the Nawroz celebrations on 21 March. However, DMC and Asayeesh are yet to resume their presence in the camp.

- A monthly population count of Domiz Camp conducted by DMC and the Mukhtars has shown that there are some 35,000 persons currently residing in the camp. This is less than the previously estimated number of 45,000 persons. The verification exercise, which will be rolled out in July 2014, will assist with establishing the actual number of camp resident, as well as ensuring that the street addresses of the refugees’ physical residence are correctly uploaded in the ProGres database.

- UNHCR has now stopped receiving additional families in the Arbat Transit Site due to the lack of space and adequate water and sanitation facilities. Only extremely vulnerable families and new arrivals from Syria will be considered for accommodation in the site.

2. Border update

Al Qa‘im

The border remains closed since 29 March 2013. Syrians with valid visa are still allowed to cross the border toward Iraq after they obtain prior approval from Iraqi authorities. More medical cases of Syrians are received at the border clinic. Patients have to return back to Syria the same day after receiving the appropriate treatment.

Peshkabour and Sehela

Population movements from conflict-ridden Syria into northern Iraq came to a near halt on 10 April. Officials say that this is due to the closure of the border at Semalka in Syria. However, 84 individuals (21 families) sought asylum during the reporting period, and were admitted to the Bajid Kandela Transit Centre and registered with UNHCR.

Syrian Crisis in Iraq: Bi-weekly Update

There were no returns to Syria from Al Obaidy camp during the reporting period. Therefore the number of Syrian refugee returns stands at 6,527 persons. The reasons for return range from limitations in the freedom of movement and health and family reunification to the lack of a regular source of income for refugees.

Kurdistan Region
A majority of the new arrivals are mainly from Al-Hassake, Aleppo, Kobani and Damascus areas in Syria. They stated that several hundreds who have fled these areas around three weeks ago are still stranded in Gerbalat, Ali Kamash, Al-Sharak mosques and public schools, some 6km from the Peshkabour crossing points. The new arrivals also add that those stranded are in urgent need for humanitarian assistance.

UNHCR has mobilised operational partners who are present inside Syria to assist these stranded groups and a rapid assessment was carried out by IRC. Findings of the assessment showed that these people are stranded in appalling conditions with dire needs in the areas of protection, security, hygiene, health and shelter. Operational partners have, therefore, been mobilised to ensure a coordinated response to their assistance needs. At the same time, UNHCR continues to advocate with relevant authorities to open the border to allow those in need of international protection access to the territory.

On 10 April, UNHCR met with the General Director of the Passport and Nationality Directorate and the Heads of the Residency Departments of the Erbil, Dohuk and Suleimaniyah governorates to discuss the possibility of harmonizing the various procedures, as well as the need for accurate information on the presence of refugees in the Kurdistan Region. During the meeting, it was agreed that registration procedures for new arrivals, issues related to family reunification and file transfers, need to be aligned as soon as possible. In order to ensure security and safety of refugees en route from border entry points to the different governorates, it was suggested that UNHCR issue a letter to the individual concerned. The format of the registration appointment slip will be shared with the authorities for further discussion.

Following the meeting, the Heads of Residency Departments in the three governorates commissioned a team to assess the existing registration facilities within PARC/Qandil premises and compile a proposal on the technical requirements for resumption of residency issuance process for urban refugees residing within the Erbil governorate.

Also in Suleimaniyah, the Residency Department has already resumed issuing the residence cards to Syrian refugees. While residency cards for the refugee population in camps will be issued free of cost, the residency department has decided to charge an amount of 8000 IQD (approximately USD 6.6) per card (at cost price) for those outside camps. The same amount will be charged for the renewal of the cards.

The lack of civil documentation remains one of the key issues affecting UNHCR's persons of concern including Syrian refugees. During the reporting period, PARC/Qandil legal team identified 64 individual cases in need of issuance of birth and marriage certificates. The individuals were provided with legal counselling and assistance with contacting the relevant authorities.

UNHCR has prepared a draft verification plan which includes a roll out of biometrics component for registration. The draft plan will be further refined and it is envisioned that the actual operation will commence mid-June 2014 with the preparatory work starting immediately.

In preparation for the verification exercise, UNHCR and PARC/Qandil teams accelerated the registration of individuals in Basirma camp. It is expected that the backlog in registration (formally called Level 1 registration) will be phased out in all locations by end-May 2014.

Spontaneous & verified returns
During the reporting period, UNHCR team counselled a total of 242 Syrian registered cases who expressed the wish to return to Syria. In total, 26,156 Syrian refugees registered with UNHCR have crossed into Syria since January 2013. Several of these individuals and families have returned to the country of asylum since then. Another 23,310 Syrians not registered with UNHCR returned to their country during the same period.

Due to the closer of the border crossing point at the Syrian side, a total of (56 cases/96 individuals) registered and 61 non-registered individuals who initially planned to cross into Syria were delayed due to the closure of the border.

Camps
On 2 April 2014 a one day Consultative meeting was organized by UNHCR in Erbil convention center for the government, refugee council and camp management agencies (DRC and ACTED). The objective of the consultative meeting was to strengthen and harmonize the engagement of stakeholders at camp level for effective and efficient service delivery in the Erbil Governorate camps. The roles and responsibilities of stakeholders as the government, UNHCR, camp management partners and other actors were also discussed. At the end of the meeting recommendations for the way forward were drafted and a committee was formed to follow-up on the implementation of those recommendations.

During the reporting period the Camp Coordination Meetings (CCM) took place in four camps in Erbil governorate. Food distribution by WFP, which was delayed at the end of last month for Darashakran and Kawergosk camps, has resumed with the next distribution envisaged in the last week of this month.

Meanwhile, UNHCR allocated 14 generators (7 of 10 KVA and 7 of 5 KVA) donated by the Italian government to different partners and government officials in all camps to use for refugee activities.

Despite announcement that no more space is available in the camps, new arrivals from border and scattered urban areas continue to arrive to the Darashakran and Kawergosk camps. The camp administrator reported on 161 new family arrivals without space but sharing tents with relatives in Darashakran camp. Additionally he mentioned a list of 139 families from scattered urban areas registered for space in the Darashakran camp and currently leaving outside the camp. Kawergosk reported on 245 new arrival families with no space in the camp.

Darashakran Camp: Generally, 90 per cent of ProGres registration has been completed. The UNHCR registration team is making individual screening to ensure all persons are registered. Update of data i.e. adding births and new marriages, and returned refugees is ongoing on daily basis.

Qushtapa Camp: The process of ProGres registrations by UNHCR is going smoothly. Directorate of Residency is continuing to provide residency to the refugees in the camp.

Basirma Camp: It was reported by the camp administrator that 56 new families arrived to the camp (230 Individuals) from the border. As a result, the total camp population is now 815 families (3384 individuals). One family (2 Individuals) spontaneously returned to Syria during reporting period. UNHCR registration section allocated a registration team to start ProGres registration.

Domiz Camp: During the reporting period, 455 Individuals have undergone level-2 UNHCR registration, including family reunification, family addition and transferred cases.

A monthly population count conducted by DMC and the Mukhtars showed that there are some 35,000 persons residing in Domiz Camp. This is less than previously estimated number of 45,000 persons.

UNHCR conducted 119 protection interviews covering issues such as lost-certificate, request for transfer from Erbil/Suleimaniyah to Dohuk, family-composition and lack-of documents, reactivation of files after returning back to KR-I.

In addition, UNHCR negotiated with DMC, the Residency Directorate and the Asayeesh to accept the transfer of files. UNHCR also advocated with the government to permit visa holders to apply for asylum.

Gawilan Camp: Humanitarian actors resumed activities in the Gawilan camp on 8 April. UN agencies and I/NGOs temporarily suspended assistance in the camp after a violent confrontation in Gawilan Camp between the Asayeesh, DMC officials and Zeravani during the Nawroz celebrations on 21 March. However DMC and Asayeesh are yet to resume their presence in the camp.

A rapid assessment was conducted in the Gawilan camp between 8-13 April period. The main concerns of Syrian refugees in Gawilan include the lack of residency permits, access to employment and the quality of the food ration as well as the absence of the civilian administration and the presence of the regular security authority. During the reporting period UNHCR made follow up visits to five SGBV cases and made further referrals to UPP. Meanwhile a team of US medical professionals reportedly provided health services at the primary health center.

Transit sites

Akre: During the reporting period, 16 Individuals underwent registration in Pro-Gres, including family reunification, family addition and transferred cases.

UNHCR also conducted seven protection interviews, covering issues primarily related to incidents of physical assault, registration, and family reunification.

A rapid assessment was conducted among 256 households in Akre. This included information regarding female-headed households, working children, early marriages, domestic violence in households and physical assault. Upon completion of the Rapid Assessment, follow up protection interviews were conducted with refugees who reported incidents of physical assault.

Also three focus groups were held with both camp and non-camp refugees. Two groups brought together young adults aged of 22, while the third group brought together women between the ages of 22 and 50. The participants highlighted the need for livelihoods, as well as simmering tensions between refugees and host communities in Akre.

Bajid Kandela: A total of 21 families/84 individuals sought asylum and were registered and admitted to the Bajid Kandela transit site centre.

With the closure of the border of the Syrian side, a total of 56 Syrian registered cases of 96 Individuals and 61 non-registered individuals were stranded at entrance gate of the Peshkabour crossing point and eventually continued their stay in the KR-I. Furthermore, all the necessary arrangements have been reviewed in coordination with DMC, Asayeesh and the return registration team to postpone the return of the group and retrieve their UNHCR certificates and residency permits to facilitate their movements in KR-I until the border is open.

There are currently some 245 individuals (of them 49 singles and 49 families/196 individuals) at the transit site. During the reporting period, food was provided by DMC, while basic primary healthcare was carried out by MSF. For more serious medical consultations, cases were referred to Zarkho public hospital with transport provided by UNHCR.

In April, the border authorities, Asayeesh and DMC in Bajid Kandela introduced new procedures allowing refugees to leave the site, with sponsors (Iraqi or Syrian refugee with legal status in KR-I, living in camp or urban but excluding sponsors from Domiz camp as it remains congested).

Arbat Transit Site: Nine families consisting of 34 individuals registered in Arbat Transit Site during the reporting period. A meeting was held with Syrian refugee representatives in the transit camp to discuss the relocation of the population in the Arbat Transit Site to the permanent camp which is currently under construction. It was agreed to conduct a ‘go-and-see’ to the permanent camp so that refugee representatives including women could observe the layout, availability of services and subsequently inform the rest of the refugee population. This will materialize once the camp is ready to host refugees.

Block A and B in the Arbat Permanent camp are expected to ready by the end of May to host 512 families in the first phase of relocation. The rest will move once work on Block C is complete. UNHCR is planning to move the families based on their date of registration and arrival in the Arbat Transit Camp. Families with special needs will be prioritized.

Moreover, UNHCR has completed the verification process to identify the families to be relocated to Blocks A and B. The agency is working on the standard operation procedures for the relocation and is look at establishing a Task Force on relocation, comprising of implementing and operational partners, as well as the government authorities.

Water and Sanitation

Kurdistan Region
Syrian Crisis in Iraq: Bi-weekly Update

On 8 April, UNHCR spearheaded the “Keep Kawergosk Camp Clean” initiative after observing that the camp was increasingly becoming dirty with increased littering. Grey water from kitchens and other household uses drains in the streets forming stagnant ponds which soak litter and garbage.

UNHCR introduced “Keep Kawergosk Clean” in order to influence refugees to keep their camp clean. Participants in this clean-up included representatives of the Mayor’s office, Asayeesh, Police, UNHCR, and UNICEF, Zhya, Refugee Council, refugees, NRC, RISE Foundation, WEO, PAO as well as a number of refugee children. The activity lasted for three hours with refugees concentrating inside the sectors while staff from agencies cleaned open spaces and gutters. A task force met on 15th April, 2014 to plan for the continuation of the initiative with the mobilization of the population with awareness raising and for the educating refugees on the importance of keeping the camp clean.

Camps

Basirma Camp: UNHCR (Field, Technical & WASH), DRC, THW, Mayor Office, DoSW, & Sewage system department met to discuss the sewage system plan in the Basirma camp. Subsequently the final network plan has been approved by the team and it was agreed that THW will start work as soon as possible.

Domiz Camp: KURDS continues to work in Domiz 2 (Phase 6) on the construction of opening channels. So far 75% of the work is complete.

FRC continued to provide its services in the camp during the reporting period, by dislodging 416 pits. Currently the UNICEF/DMC agreement only covers water care and maintenance while the UNHCR projects with FRC and Qandil (on dislodging) do not cover all locations in Domiz.
Syrian Crisis in Iraq: Bi-weekly Update

Options were reviewed to involve FRC and Qandil. UNHCR is looking into a clear division of roles for the partners.

Meanwhile FRC has been given the green light by UNHCR for the construction of holding tanks with a volume of 18 cubic meters in Transit 3 and 4 in Domiz.

Gawilan Camp: Three mini trucks were allocated for delivery of water. Approximately 45,000 liters of water is delivered on daily basis covering all sectors. However, during the reporting period, due to absence of DMC in Gawilan Camp, the Zerevani were involved in the delivery of water.

!Water delivery in Gawilan/UNHCR/B.Amin

Arbat Permanent Camp: The distribution water networks in Blocks A & B is completed in addition to the elevated water tanks. Work on the pipeline together with construction of the storage tank for Blocks A & B, eight septic tanks and sewerage line to the septic tanks is also complete. KURDS is installing two elevated storage tanks, with the capacity of 40 cubic meters per tank.

Transit Sites

Arbat Transit Site: UNHCR through KURDS initiated 15 additional cesspools and the provision of latrines and bath facilities in the site. Six of the facilities are in anticipation of the arrival of vulnerable families into the camp. It should be noted that some 25 additional families can benefit from the additional wash facilities. In response to the increased camp population and WASH needs, UNICEF and IRC are increasing the provision of water from 100,000 liters to 140,000 liters per day.

Under the auspices of GBV programme in the area, UNHCR’s partner NRC continued to train the psycho-social staff operating in the camp on the GBV concept, case management and counselling process; including perspectives from different sections of the population. The results of the safety audit exercise will be shared through the SGBV Sub-working group and refugee structures for appropriate actions.

Several instances of domestic violence, physical abuse and harassment were captured through various protection actors across the camps in course of the reporting period. Due to lack of clear referral mechanisms and data sharing agreement, a follow-up on such cases presents a challenge. As a part of the project on establishing functional referral pathways for individual cases involving SGBV and child protection issues, UNHCR Protection and Community Services units continued strengthening the capacity of PARC/Qandil and INTERSOS counsellors and social workers with aim to ensure an early detection and follow-up by the designated service providers at a camp level;

Women Centres operating in three camps i.e. Darashakran, Kawegorsk, Basirma continue to accommodate 100 refugee women on average, between the ages of 16 and 57 for group discussions and recreational activities on a daily basis.
